Bus pact for this area

By BILL WINTER
of the Press-Record

Bi-State Development Agency commissioners on Thursday approved a contract with the Madison County transit district to continue bus service here despite the scheduled termination of most St. Clair County bus routes.

Madison County transit officials had voted for the bus service contract April 27. Thursday's action clears the way for Bi-State to receive back from the state government the proceeds from a quarter-cent sales tax that began in this county Feb. 1.

In return, the three-member Madison County transit board will have a partial voice in the number, type and quality of buses; decisions affecting facilities and fares; and designation of routes, schedules and stops.

The added sales tax provides about $1 million a year to augment state funds and farebox revenue in meeting transit wage, equipment and administrative costs.

Local and Bi-State officials believe that this county's willingness to pay a share of the bus subsidy will result in the Illinois state government continuing to supply funds at the present rate for service in this area.

The state contribution would have been cut in half without a local subsidy, drastically affecting the number of bus routes that Bi-State could have afforded to provide.

In contrast to the mass transit "green light" in Madison County, "yellow" and "red" signals are beginning to flash in St. Clair, which also has a quarter-cent tax, and in Monroe County, which has an eighth-cent sales tax. In both of the latter counties, voters opposed such taxation in advisory balloting conducted on the April 7 election day.

The St. Clair County Board, noting the 19,132 to 10,068 negative vote in St. Clair, voted 17-0 on April 27 to recommend ending that county's sales tax for transit purposes, effective June 30.

The St. Clair transit board then decided 3-0 April 28 to terminate the tax. That levy had been expected to produce between $1½ million and $2 million annually.

Although bus service is to continue in Madison County without major cutbacks, service from here to some St. Clair County areas seems likely to be reduced, and there also may be an impact on local routes that pass through St. Clair on the way to St. Louis, officials believe.

The Bi-State Development board, which operates the Bi-State Transit System, decided Thursday to reduce St. Clair County bus service on July 1, with employee layoffs estimated to total 175. William J. Wilson, Bi-State transit manager, said he and his staff have not completed an analysis of the service cuts, but that about 100 daily runs are in jeopardy.

He predicted that regular service may continue on only three or four major St. Clair routes beyond July 1, including Belleville-St. Louis, Alta Vista and Rosemont.

Wilson added that Sunday bus service probably will end in St. Clair County, with Saturday routes reduced to a minimum.

The Madison County transit board consists of a Madison County Board member, William Haine of Alto; Mayor Paul Schuler of Granite City; and Mrs. Viola Tucker, who has been the Collinsville Township supervisor; Haine is the chairman.

Terry Allan, who was elected in April to succeed Mrs. Tucker as supervisor, has been offered her transit board position but has indicated he may not accept it.

Michael Thompson is the Madison County transit board's legal counsel. Its administrator is Susan Schold.

The St. Clair transit board is composed of Belleville Mayor Richard Brauer (chairman), Mascoutah Township Supervisor Edwin Link and County Board Member Lonnie Moseley.

City 'passes' full pollution grant

Better communication between the city administration and the new Granite City Council has been pledged by Mayor Paul Schuler after the council, through a possible lack of communications, voted against obtaining a data acquisition terminal for the city's air pollution control department which would have been paid for by federal grant funds, at no direct cost to the city.

The council's air pollution control committee opened bids for the data terminal at the last city council meeting and made a recommendation Tuesday night that the low bid of $1,450 from Texas Instruments be accepted.

Paula Case, head of the city's air pollution control department, explained that under the city's grant from the federal Environmental Protection Agency, the EPA will purchase all equipment needed by the local agency while the city provides a part of the cost of the manpower.

She said the new terminal would not increase the manpower needs of her department, but actually would decrease the workload by centrally monitoring data from several air measuring stations. Therefore, there would be no cost to the city, Mrs. Case explained.

She said the unit also would give the local air pollution control department the capability to tell at a glance if certain dangers exist in the air, such as excess amounts of ozone.

"This is particularly important to the elderly who contact me daily to ask if it is a good day to go outside into the air or not. Now, I have to call Springfield for that information," she said, explaining that data from the city's monitors now is analyzed in the state's computers in Springfield.

However, when it came time to approve a contract to purchase the $1,450 monitor, the vote lost with six aldermen in favor of the purchase and eight against. Opponents were Aldermen Sam Whitmer, Margaret Nomm, Paul Ray Bowler, Paul Fisk, Mac Warfield, Mike Modrusic, Sharon Perjak and Stephen Salich.

Asked by the Press-Record after the meeting why they voted against the federally-funded purchase, the aldermen who voted no gave various reasons. Mrs. Perjak, who was attending her first meeting since her election as an alderman, said, "I think it's too soon to throw all that stuff at it. We had no time to study it."

The other new alderman who voted no, Salich, said he does not believe there is such a thing as 100 percent federal funding. He also said he did not have advance warning or time to study the issue.

Veteran alderman Whitmer said, "Like I have said before. Just because

Chase ends with 2 hurt

A police chase reaching speeds of nearly 100 miles-per-hour ended with two young men injured, one seriously, when their auto struck a concrete culvert in the median of Interstate 270 at Route 203 at 2:05 a.m. today.

State troopers reported they were chasing the auto of Jeffrey Warren, 19, of 2032 Benton St., westbound when the auto tried to pass the East Texas Motor Freight tractor trailer of James Gause, Newark, Ill., by driving in the median.

The auto went out of control, struck the culvert and overturned, throwing Mosby out.

The tractor trailer swerved to avoid the car and drove across a concrete divider, damaging the tractor. The driver was not hurt.

The injured were taken to St. Elizabeth Medical Center and Mosby was transferred to Firmin Desloge Hospital, St. Louis, with head injuries.

Tickets charging Warren with driving while intoxicated and attempting to elude police have been filed and additional charges are pending, state troopers said today.

Summer youth program

Approximately 25 to 30 Granite City students, ages 16 through college age, will be employed this summer by the city to cut weeds and grass, to conduct trash pickups, to paint the homes of qualifying low-income families and to do other work for the city.

The city council has voted to allocate $30,000 for the student intern program, $10,000 more than was appropriated for the program last year.

Mayor Paul Schuler proposed the allocation, explaining that this year, $10,000 was added to the house painting program, which is funded by community development funds, can get underway immediately. Paint costs and salaries will be reimbursed by the county's community development office, but that office is slow in reimbursing the city for materials, Schuler said.

He suggested that the city purchase its own paint and then bill community development for a reimbursement, because, "there is confusion and delay in community development getting materials approved."

A basic goal of the student intern program is to allow each student to earn approximately $1,000 during the summer. Students involved with weed cutting, trash collection, checking scales and measures and several other duties will be paid $500 a month and will work for two months. Some will work 2½ months, if sufficient funds remain, the council was told.

Those involved in the house painting program will earn more per month under community development guidelines, so they probably will work only one month before the program is discontinued.

APA seeks donations for May benefit fair

The Association for Protection of Animals (APA) is seeking donated items for resale at its semi-annual "White Elephant and Book Fair," scheduled in mid-May at the VFW Hall. Proceeds from the event will help to provide medical attention and food for abused and neglected pets, who are cared for by APA volunteers. The funds also will help to complete the non-profit humane group's shelter care facility for animals, which is under construction on Old Alton Road.

The APA officers also announced the week of May 3 through May 9 has been designated "Be Kind to Animals Week." Due to the current unseasonably hot weather, dog owners whose pets are kept outdoors are reminded to keep fresh water available and provide a shaded area for animals which are penned or tied. Dog owners also are asked not to leave a pet inside a vehicle with the windows closed when outside temperatures are at a high level.

"Fair share" for Granite

The Granite City Council has been informed by Cheryl Joutet, director of Madison County Community Development (MCCD), that the city will receive an additional $30,000 in housing fund allocations.

A total of $620,000 was requested for housing activities, but only $260,000 was available to the MCCD.

Council members were apparently pleased with the city's allocations. "Taking into consideration the total amount over three years which has been given Granite City," said Mayor Paul Schuler, "We have received more than our fair share of the allocations for housing," he concluded.

Alton and Madison County Housing Rehabilitation programs have been assigned $30,000 each and Edwardsville is to receive $25,000 for its rehabilitation program. The City of Madison has been awarded $35,000 for its program.

Edwardsville, Venice and Nameoki Townships were each allocated $30,000. Leef Township will receive $20,000 for housing.

The $30,000 Granite City 1980-82 funding will be used by Granite City Housing Rehabilitation program.

Big rise in child abuse complaints

The number of child abuse complaints in Illinois is expected to exceed 70,000 for this fiscal year, up from 30,000 in 1979-80, almost double the 1979-80 figure of 37,476, Comptroller Roland W. Burris said late last week.

Burris said that even with "stricter abuse reporting laws and heightened public awareness of the problem, the number of complaints is phenomenal when only a decade ago the number of complaints was 600 to 700 per year."

His current monthly fiscal report takes close look at the Department of Children and Family Services and its change in emphasis in the last decade, from institutional care to protective services and more individualized care.

Another section of the report, the Illinois economic picture, zeroes in on inflation in the past year and pinpoints the leading causes of spiraling prices, led by transportation costs and housing.

The report also shows that state revenues at the nine-month point in the 1980-81 fiscal year were $179 million lower than expenditures.

Here are some of the key findings of the comptroller's special report on the Department of Children and Family Services:

—The department's three largest spending programs, and their percentage of the total spending, are substitute care (42 percent), protective services (22 percent), and child and family development (18 percent). The least money went to adoption services (2.8 percent) and services to unmarried mothers (0.7 percent).

—The number of children receiving substitute care in a foster home, a group home, or an institution has remained fairly steady since 1976, ranging from 11,000 to 12,000. The number of children in the program in 1979-80 was 11,832.

—The number of child abuse and neglect complaints continues to soar, spiraling from 632 in 1969-70 to 37,476 in 1979-80. By the end of the current fiscal year on June 30, the department estimates the number of reported abuses will be almost double last year's figure, in excess of 71,000 or an increase of 90.8 percent.

—The number of adoptions has declined in recent years. In 1975-76, for example, 1,029 adoptions were completed. In 1979-80, the figure was 475.

—Seven of the department's eight existing youth care institutions have now been closed or transferred to other agencies, reflecting the new DCF's emphasis on home environment care.

—Where inflation hit the hardest in Illinois' Burris pinpoints housing, and transportation as the leaders in the cost spiral in the past year.

From February 1980 to February of this year, transportation prices increased 14 percent and housing went up 13.1 percent. Steadily rising energy costs helped fuel both surges. A look at seven major consumer categories shows that only clothing costs declined in the period.

Gasoline prices (for full service pumps) rose 10.5 percent in Cook County during the past year and increased an average of 12.3 percent downtown. Even so, gasoline prices in Cook County were two to three cents higher ($1.47 per gallon) than downtown Chicago at the start of April.

A hopeful note cited is that national housing starts rose 6 percent in March after skidding 27 percent in February.

Costumes and cuisine, and a bazaar filled with crafts and antiques. There also will be an auto show, films of Holland and, of course, tulips.

Non-resident adults. There will be tomahawk, knife-throwing and riflismanship demonstrations, authentic Indian songs, costumes and food. Traders from across the nation will sell Indian merchandise and crafts.

Gateway board elects McNary

At its regular monthly meeting last week, the board of directors of East-West Gateway Coordinating Council elected St. Louis County Executive James McNary to serve as vice chairman.

In other actions, the board approved a request by the Illinois Department of Transportation to place 13 highway improvement projects on the 1981-85 transportation improvement program (TIP) and on the fiscal 1981 annual element (AE).

The TIP designates transportation projects throughout the region which are to be started within a five-year period. The AE outlines projects that begin within the first year of the TIP. This action is intended to expedite the road improvements.

—Edmored an application by the Village of Fairmont City in St. Clair County to the Department of Agriculture and to the Farmers Home Administration for funds to construct sanitary sewers that would connect to an existing sewage treatment plant.

—Approved 16 requests from Illinois and Missouri special transportation providers to the Urban Mass Transportation Administration for funds to improve their transportation services to elderly and handicapped citizens throughout the region.

WEAPON CHARGES Frank P. Baker, 26, of 2507 Washington Ave., was charged at 2:45 a.m. Saturday with aggravated assault and failure to obtain a firearm owner identification card, having allegedly pointed a loaded 20 gauge shotgun at Stephen Demaree, 2505 Washington.

County contract to end

S.M. Wilson Co. has given notice to the Madison County Special Sewer Committee of its plans to terminate its contract and has asked for more than $780,000 to maintain it is owed.

S.M. Wilson, general contractors for the sewer projects, had asked the committee last November to be paid $128,091 of the cost, but the money has been retained, as sewers have yet to be accepted as complete.

Project manager for S.M. Wilson Wayne Hellemeyer, outlined the notification, indicating the contract stipulates that contractors may terminate agreement or suspend work upon 10 days written notice.

The matter is now being handled by assistant states attorney Marshall "Zeke" Smith who believes that the county is within legal rights to continue to retain funds until it is fully satisfied with the work. He has asked them to meet with contractors to discuss the situation.

There are several unresolved problems and Smith said project engineers and the county auditor should also attend the meeting.

One problem is that residents are not satisfied with repairs to property which was allegedly damaged during the course of sewer construction.

The district was unable to obtain necessary land easements and work that was originally planned cannot be completed because of this situation.

John Arnold, of Juneau and Associates Inc., engineers for the project, maintains that construction has been complete for several weeks and no work has been done for some time.

Smith is hopeful that the issue can be resolved. "I think we will be able to work things out," Smith said.

One problem is that residents are not satisfied with repairs to property

Roof leaks plague school

The roofing situation at the new Madison Middle School is one of the biggest problems plaguing Madison School District 12, according to School Superintendent John Palchek.

The roof has developed many leaks and cracks, causing extensive damage to the classrooms and hallways at the school. There apparently are no immediate prospects for resolving this situation.

Contractor L. Wolf Co., architect Henry R. Gabriel and roofing subcontractor Biebel Roofing Co. met with the Illinois Capital Development Board (CDB) representatives and Palchek to discuss matters of contract obligations and payment retention.

The CDB has informed

Wolf it will continue to retain funds due to the company until the school problems are resolved.

The CDB maintains that it would be the best interest of all parties involved that the roof problems be resolved, as was originally agreed.

GC serviceman is promoted

Meetings on locating jobs

Wednesdays in May will be job hunting days at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, with University Placement Services conducting a series of free workshops help students and graduates find career positions.

"Just knowing what you can do and being able to tell a prospective employer about it are the first steps to finding a career and a job," according to David Van Horn, placement director. He will help interested job hunters analyze their skills, May 20; develop resumes, May 13; write letters and interpret employment trends, May 20; and "give all the right answers at the interview," May 27.

The workshops are open to the public each Wednesday in May at 2:30 p.m. in the Washburn or Dogwood rooms of the University Center.

Middle School band concert

The Madison Middle School Concert will be held in the Middle School gymnasium on May 7 at 7:30 p.m.

The band is a composite of 6, 7 and 8 grade students, according to director of instrumental music in Madison William F. Ledbetter.

Selections to be played include overtures, marches, a disco score, theme from "Dallas" and many others. The band will be under the direction of Ledbetter. Admission is free and the public is invited.

1981 mailbox improvement week planned

Among the many things that springtime brings to mind is spring cleaning, and Granite City Postmaster Jack D. Wilkins has a reminder to include the mailbox in this annual rite.

He says, "Mailbox Improvement Week, May 18-23, provides the perfect opportunity to clean, repair, repaint or replace your mailbox."

"Neat, attractive mailboxes add to the overall appearance of the community and aid in the delivery of mail," the postmaster said.

"Boxes should be within easy reach for letter carriers. On rural routes, the carrier must have access without leaving his vehicle."

"Mailboxes on rural and contract routes must be located on the right side of the road in the direction traveled by the carrier. As a tow truck was removing the vehicle and a policeman was directing traffic at 2:25 a.m., Bryan Drayton, 30, of West Madison was charged with reckless driving near the officer and the wreckage, and was booked for driving with a suspended license. At 3 a.m. Friday at the police building, Drayton was arrested for disorderly conduct."

"Box numbers and house numbers should be clearly visible on the box, but including the owner's name is optional."

"All mailboxes must meet certain requirements for size, strength, safety and location. These guidelines are available from the post office."

Expansion project at SEMC dedicated

The newest addition to the St. Elizabeth Medical Center, the Kaenders Pavilion, was dedicated Sunday afternoon outside the new front entrance to the medical center.

During the brief ceremonies dedicating the structure to its founder, the Rev. Peter Kaenders, a ribbon was cut at the door of the new wing and the corner stone of the addition was unveiled.

In addition to Master of ceremonies Leo Konzen, others speaking to the gathering of nearly 200 included Congressman Melvin Price (D-East St. Louis), State Senator Sam Vadalabene (D-Edwardsville), Dr. Abdul Razzaq, president-elect of the SEMC medical staff, and Sister Mary Thomas, president of the medical center.

The invocation was given by the Rev. Don Pearson, pastor of the Nameoki United Presbyterian Church and president of the Quad-City Ministerial Alliance.

As Sister Mary Thomas addressed the crowd and gave a brief history of the hospital and its founder, Rev. Kaenders (portrayed by Les Tobin, an associate of SEMC) visited the new wing on horseback. Rev. Kaenders used a horse to commute between his parish, St. Mark Church in Venice, and the hospital, which he purchased in 1911.

Music during the ceremonies was provided by Sister Catherine, CDP, on the piano and Fanny, an engineering student at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, who played the violin.

Tours of the new addition and other remodeled areas of the medical center were given to those in attendance immediately following the dedication.

Probation in traffic death

James E. McNeil Jr., 21, Granite City, has been placed on two years of probation and fined $1,000 after being charged with reckless homicide in the death of Edward J. Pelikan, 23, Edwardsville rural area.

Mr. Pelikan, a passenger, died as the result of injuries suffered Sept. 3, 1980, when an auto driven by McNeil struck a turn at Henry and Phillipina streets, crossed an embankment, and crashed onto Norfolk Western railroad tracks 50 feet below.

Edwardsville police had begun pursuing the Pelikan car after noticing it moving erratically at St. Louis and Second streets.

The chase proceeded at high speed prior to the crash. Rescue workers were seeking to free those in the auto when the train approached, barely stopping in time.

MOTORCYCLE TAKEN

The bike and white 1972 Harley Davidson motorcycle of Richard Taritt, 1728 Cleveland Boulevard, was stolen from the yard there Thursday night.

News notes

Illinois Attorney General Tyrone Fahner is seeking to represent consumers in federal hearings on Natural Gas Pipeline's request for a $109 million rate hike. He said over 70 percent of the increase would be borne by Illinois consumers and less than 30 percent by other states. Fahner added, "It is important to ensure that the interests of all citizens are fully and adequately protected, and that the pipeline company is put to the test to prove its need for a higher rate."

The Illinois Senate Transportation Committee approved Friday a license plate fee increase from the present $18 and $30 levels to $30 and $45. The Senate Revenue Committee voted Thursday for a five percent state tax on oil refiners' gross receipts. The rate is set this week on allowing the state to go into long-term debt for roads and transit by selling $500 million in bonds.

A 13-6 favorable vote was recorded Thursday by the Illinois House Executive Committee on asking voters to decide in 1982 whether to replace the election of state supreme court and appellate judges with a system of merit appointments.

Close four taverns on Sunday a.m.

Four Granite City taverns were ordered closed and the owners or bartenders were arrested when police alleged gross receipts open before noon Sunday.

Police first checked Ken's Lounge, 2018 Street and Washington Avenue, at 9:35 a.m. Sunday and alleged finding six patrons drinking at the bar. They were ordered to leave and the bartender, Arthur Clements, 46, of 1507 Washington Ave., was charged with violating tavern closing hours.

At 10:05 a.m. Sunday, officers found approximately nine patrons drinking in Hook's Tavern, 21st and Adams streets. It was alleged they were ordered out and the owner, Alfred R. Watson, 47, of 2553 Benton Ave., was charged.

Five minutes later, officers alleged finding four customers drinking in El Gato, 18th Street and Delmar Ave., and arrested the bartender, Jerry L. McMaster, 46, of 2138 Benton St.

At 10:39 a.m. Sunday, about 10 persons were seen drinking in Ark's Lounge, 16th Street and Madison Avenue, police alleged, and they arrested the owner, Kathryn M. Jones, 59, of 56 Villa Drive.

Those charged with violating tavern closing hours were released on $35 cash bond each, pending court appearances.

BARTELS RECOVERING

Jule Bartels of Granite City, Illinois city editor of the St. Louis Globe-Democrat and a former news editor of the Press-Record, was to be transferred today from St. Elizabeth Medical Center to Jewish Hospital, St. Louis, for tests to determine the cause of a sudden illness which struck him at home April 15. According to his wife, Betty, he is stable and is recuperating.

A $20 million one-time advance in sales tax receipts to avoid a shutdown of transit services in the six-county Chicago region was approved Thursday by Governor James R. Thompson, Comptroller Ronald W. Burris and Treasurer Jerome Cosen-tino.

Illinois per capita personal income of $10,658 ranks seventh behind Alaska, the District of Columbia, Connecticut, California, New Jersey and Wyoming. The national average is $9,771.

An Illinois House judiciary committee last week rejected 7-5 a plan to allow police to monitor private investigations in kidnapping and drug investigations.

Illinois House judiciary panels last week delayed until fall a proposal to reapportion court district boundaries. It would have reduced the number of Madison County circuit judges.

The Illinois House Elementary and Secondary Education Committee approved 20-1 last week a bill allowing unit school districts to double their student transportation tax without a referendum.

Despite a regional recommendation to the contrary, the U. S. Department of Health and Human Services has approved federal funding for the Health Systems Agency in this metropolitan area.

Welfare medical cutbacks

Governor James R. Thompson announced an additional $12.5 million in budget cuts last week from the fiscal 1981-82 budget. The revisions recommended in the Department of Public Aid and Department of Mental Health and Developmental Disabilities include $98 million, cuts in welfare spending, and $11.5 million, cuts in mental health.

Of the cuts in welfare, $72 million will be reduced spending for medical services, $18 million for income maintenance, and $8 million for social services.

In medical services, some optional services will be eliminated for those programs that are 100 percent state and locally funded. These include podiatrists, chiropractors, appliances, non-emergency dental care, optometrists, outpatient and clinic.

These same services will be eliminated for those who do not receive income assistance — those who receive medical services only.

For families with dependent children and aged, blind, or disabled persons receiving cash assistance, only three optional services will be eliminated: podiatrists, chiropractors, and non-emergency dental care.

After these changes, those receiving cash assistance will still be eligible for the following services: hospital inpatient, outpatient, clinic, skilled and intermediate nursing home care, physicians, transportation, labs, home health, Medicare scheduling, prescribed drugs, emergency dental care, appliances and optometrists.

In addition, a program of co-payments will be implemented for prescriptions, visits to doctors and other practitioners, and clinic, outpatient, and emergency room visits.

Specifically, a recipient will be required to pay the first dollar per prescription, the first dollar per office visit, and the first three dollars per clinic, outpatient, or emergency room visit.

In addition to co-payments, all recipients who have available income will be required to document medical expenses sufficient to meet their obligation, before the state will participate in paying the medical bills.

A third major initiative will be in hospital reimbursements. The amount the state will reimburse per day per hospital stay will be limited to $400. And the state will set maximum hospital reimbursement rates for some medical procedures, such as normal delivery and cesarean section.

On the income assistance side, new initiatives include those budgeted by the federal government. Income of stepparents will now be counted in determining eligibility for families with dependent children, and the state will be able, under federal regulations, to recover overpayments through reducing future income assistance grants to individuals.

The state will also implement a new program that will restrict the amount of earned income current recipients are excluded when determining a family's eligibility for cash assistance.

The final initiative restricts 18- to 21-year-old student eligibility for income assistance. Unless a recipient is a senior in high school and is, he will be ineligible for cash assistance. The state will also restrict this eligibility under the general assistance program.

The state is proposing to modify general assistance to identify employable recipients. Employable recipients who refuse to cooperate in seeking work will be terminated from the general assistance program.

Donated funds and other local effort programs will be cut by 25 percent, consistent with the federal program to reduce Title XX funding through creation of social services block grant.

Shrine potentate to attend 'Noble' 25th anniversary

History will be made on May 17 when the Imperial Potentate of the Shrine of North America unveils a metal plaque dedicated to the Nobles of Noble, Ill., whose name is that of each member of the "World's Greatest Philanthropy," the Shrine, carries, and called, a Noble.

Noble is just seven miles from Olney, a community that is celebrating its Shrine Club's 25th Anniversary that evening, and Shrine Dignitaries from Illinois, Indiana and Missouri, will gather to applaud the Center Shrine Club, as well as many people from all walks of life, Masonic and otherwise.

F.T. H'Doubler Jr., M.D., Imperial Potentate of the Ancient Arabic Order of the Nobles of the Mystic Shrine for North America, will arrive in Noble about 1:30 p.m. on that Sunday to be a part of the program that will start at the local school at 2 p.m. He will be coming from Iowa, arriving in St. Louis that morning where he will be met by Potentate Don Adams of Anand Temple, host of the dedication, and a parent of the Center Shrine Club, Adams is of Granite City.

The nearly 1 million Nobles of the Shrine of North America are a part of the 21 Hospitals, sponsored for orthopedic and burns care. The budget for 1981 is over $67 million dollars of which the Nobles pay $5 each from their dues.

Last year, Anand Temple sent 380 applications to the St. Louis Unit, Shrine of the Crippled Children, and since 1970 have sent a total of 2268. Anand is also supporting 64 children back and forth to the Cincinnati Burns Institute at no charge to the family. Part of this expense has been handled through cooperation with 17 Knights of Columbus.

A bill designed to tighten restrictions related to driving while under the influence of drugs, as well as alcohol was passed in the Illinois House of Representatives 165 to 7 last week and will be sent to the Senate.

According to the bill's sponsor, Representative Sonny Wolf (D-Granite City), the bill, House Bill 143, changes the rules of implied consent concerning suspected drunk drivers and will allow the establishment of standards by the Illinois Department of Public Health to determine what levels of marijuana or certain drugs in the bloodstream classify a driver as legally under the influence of drugs when driving.

The penalty for refusal to take a breath or blood test is automatic suspension of driving privileges for six months, under the bill. Currently, suspension for

FARMERS CERTIFY WHEAT AND BARLEY

The Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service is accepting acreage reports for the 1981 farm program. Since there are no set-aside requirements or normal crop acreage limitations, all farmers who file an accurate acreage report will be eligible for program benefits.

Delbert Essespeny, chairman of the Madison County ASC committee, said farmers may also indicate their intentions to participate in the 1981 program when they report their fall-seeded crops. "Some farmers will have seeded spring crops which they can report," he noted. Farmers have until June 15 to report the sizes and intended uses of their wheat and barley crops.

Old Six Mile suggested as name of new group

Old Six Mile Historical Society has been proposed as the name of a new organization being formed in Granite City. A meeting is planned Monday, May 18, at the town hall, 2800 Delmar Ave., to complete organization procedure.

Officers will be elected. When the Rev. David Badgley, a Baptist minister, and some others explored the American Bottoms in 1790, he described this region as the Land of Goshen, the land of milk and honey. In 1800 Ephraim Connel crossed the frontier to establish a home in this Land of Goshen and James Gillham and his family crossed the prairie along the bluffs and settled at the head of a long lake.

Thirty-two years, 1801, Patrick Hanniberry and the Piggins family settled near Horseshoe Lake. This settlement became known as Six Mile; it was six miles from St. Louis. Later a hotel called the Six Mile House was built near this settlement, again indicating its distance from St. Louis on the National Road.

Six Mile included what is called Venice today, since the Great Wagon Road terminated at the ferry landing on the banks of the Mississippi. It also included all of the present Quad-City, incorporated and unincorporated area.

When Madison County was organized on Sept. 14, 1812, the county was divided into four precincts or townships. They were Shoal Creek in the east; Goshen in the center;

2 URGENT CONVERSION OF DEFENSE PLANTS

A call for converting aircraft and armament plants to such peaceful programs as mass transit, waste disposal and solar energy products was issued by the Granite City Rotary Luncheon by William Ramsey of the St. Louis Economic Development Project and Steve Graham of the American Friends Service Community (Quakers).

They stressed that domestic manufacturing investment produces more jobs per dollar than does defense-related production. Comments and questions by club members brought out the role of defense industries in maintaining national security and in safeguarding the country's resources.

President George Moore presided and the Rev. Donald Pierson was program chairman.

Bicycle safety education urged

Nearly half of America's population owns or rides a bicycle. In fact, there are more than 100 million bicyclists, two-wheelers today, making the need for bicycle safety education more important than it has ever been, according to Police Chief Ronald J. Veizer of the Granite City Police Department.

American Bike Month in May is dedicated to promoting bicycle safety. For more than a quarter century, communities throughout the country have held special events geared to making their areas a safer place for bicyclists, Chief Veizer noted.

Because more and more youngsters and adults are riding their two-wheelers for fun, physical fitness, energy conservation and short-haul transportation, Chief Veizer emphasized that the need for bicycle safety education in the schools, community centers and in cooperation with local law enforcement agencies is more urgent than ever before.

A recent two-year study released by the U.S. Department of Transportation showed that a common cause of many traffic accidents involving bicyclists was the "blind eye of the motorist," the Police Chief said. The study revealed that the scanning patterns of the motorist were beamed at other automobiles, frequently overlooking the presence of the bicyclist on the road. He cautioned motorists to remain alert to bike riders and respect their right to the road.

The study also pointed to the erratic and illegal maneuvers of bicyclists in unexpected places—such as exiting from driveways and sidewalks onto public roads, thus creating hazardous situations. Failure to stop or yield at controlled intersections and wrong-way riding also contributed to danger for bicyclists.

The American Bike Month Committee revealed that in addition to Illinois, Maryland, New York and Wisconsin, several other states are adopting formal bicycle safety education programs. Despite this, there is still a considerable vacuum toward getting practical education programs underway. "There is no better time than during American Bike Month to remind citizens that bicycle safety is everyone's job," the police chief said. He reminded youngsters and adults that along with the Rules of the Road there is further need for maintenance of a bike to make sure that it is in safe operating order.

Most experts suggest that bikes should have regular maintenance inspections at a local bike shop, but there is no reason why the bike driver can't take simple steps toward preventive maintenance on his own. Handlebars and seats should always be adjusted to fit the bike driver and tightened. Chains should always be checked before going out on a bicycle. Meanwhile, it is a very simple procedure to check tire treading to make sure there are no stones or glass bits lodged there.

Venice files weapon charges

William Lucas, 34, of East St. Louis, was arrested in the 1500 block of Market Street, Madison, at 11:56 p.m. last week and charged with unlawful use of a weapon and not having a Firearm Owner's Identification card.

The arrest stemmed from a call received by police which stated a man was seated in an auto in front of Curley's Diner, 1918 Broadway, Venice, allegedly loading a pistol. A license number was provided by the caller and officers said a vehicle matching the description pulled away from the diner's parking area when a squad car approached.

A Venice man, who was driving, alighted from the car when it was halted on Market Street, and the officer noticed a pistol partially hidden beneath a pillow on the car seat, allegedly next to where Lucas was seated. "Another man was in the rear seat. A loaded 9mm Luger pistol was confiscated."

Lucas was initially taken to Madison Police Department and then transferred to Venice police headquarters. He was released from custody at 1:15 p.m. Tuesday on payment of a $200 cash bond, to appear May 15 in Granite City.

HITS UTILITY POLE

Joseph Bell, 24, of 823 Grand Ave., Madison, was injured when his auto failed to negotiate the curve on Felling Road near Bradley Avenue and struck a utility pole last week. Bell said his shock absorbers were faulty, which may have caused him to lose control on the rough surface. He was taken by a Granite City ambulance to St. Elizabeth Medical Center where he was treated for a three-inch cut to his left elbow and smaller cuts to his left arm before he was released.

The second public meeting on the proposed Granite City sewage pretreatment program is to be held at 6:30 p.m. Tuesday in the city council chambers of city hall.

At the meeting, progress of the planning and estimates of costs of the program will be discussed. The plan calls for the monitoring of sewage discharges from major industries and forcing them to pretreat to remove any substances which may be harmful, dangerous or which are difficult to treat at the city's primary and secondary treatment plant.

Proposed methods of enforcement also will be discussed, as will the preparation of a cost-recovery program to assure that the entire cost of the pretreatment program and monitoring is paid by the industries and not by Granite City residents, according to Terrance McMillan, superintendent of the city's treatment plant.

Questions and comments from the public will be accepted during the meeting, McMillan added. Information may be obtained in advance of the meeting from McMillan at 452-6229 or Alan Carter, project engineer for Sverdrup & Parcel and Associates, Inc., at 1-314-436-7600.

The meeting will be followed at 8 p.m. by the regular meeting of the city council.

News notes

Sales of existing homes continued to slip during March, falling to a seasonally adjusted annual rate of 2,520,000 units, or 37 percent off the peak rate of 4,050,000 achieved in November 1978. The current housing recession has persisted for 28 months, the steepest and longest in the post-World War II era. Realtors say a healthy recovery in home sales is unlikely until mortgage interest rates recede from the current level of 15 to 16 percent.

Gov. James R. Thompson said Wednesday the Governor's Office of Consumer Services will be transferred July 1 to the Public Utilities Section of the Illinois attorney general's office, permitting expanded representation of consumers at electric utility, telephone, natural gas and other utility hearings.

Community college enrollment rose statewide during the fall of 1980. Belleville Area College was up from 11,008 in the fall of 1979 to 11,484, a 7.6 percent increase. BAC full-time equivalent enrollment was up 13.47 percent for the same period.

The Reagan administration last week backed completion of the Interstate highway system by 1990 and said it can be finished at a cost of $31.5 billion.

The Regional Commerce and Growth Association plans offices in Granite City and Edwardsville as a pilot project to provide counseling and other support for retraining and employment of workers idled by industrial plant closings.

The Illinois Senate rejected 27-19 last week an effort to force a majority of lawmakers to first approve by recorded vote a proposed special pay board's legislative salary recommendations. A pending bill would enable legislators to boost their own salaries without taking specific action on raises.

U.S. Education Secretary T. H. Bell unveiled last week a plan to merge 44 federal school aid programs into two block grants. He said this would curb federal intrusion into schools and would help "restore education to the people."

A ZONING CHANGE to allow Reclaimed Iron & Metal Co. to construct a rail car disassembly plant at 2701 Missouri Ave. is discussed by members of the city Plan Commission last week. Standing at far right is Fourth Ward Alderman Warren Decatur addressing the commission. Standing at center background is David Tomchin, left, attorney for the firm, and Andrew DeGuiseppe, manager for the metal reclamation firm. The city council is expected to again discuss the matter at Tuesday night's council meeting. Residents near the proposed plant area have opposed the firm's plans.

Madison donates annex

The Madison School District 12 board members will donate the Dunbar Annex property to the City of Madison, it was decided at a special meeting of the board Thursday.

The donation agreement stipulates that the property is to be used for recreational purposes only. When the city proposed plans to demolish the property, which now occupies the annex, to build recreational facilities in its place, city officials requested that the board donate the property. This request was made because city officials would be unable to apply for federal grant money, which would help pay construction costs, unless the property is city-owned.

The annex could soon become the site of new tennis courts, volleyball courts and other recreational facilities.

Board members also accepted bids for school supplies and fencing bids for the new Middle School at that meeting. School supplies were awarded to eight to ten different companies that meet the boards specification.

Butches Supply Co. was awarded to the fencing bid as it was the lowest bidder.

NET REVENUES AND EARNINGS DECREASE

Post Corporation earned $152,000 or eight cents per share in the first quarter compared with $137,000 or 17 cents per share in the same quarter a year ago.

Net revenues of the nine-state newspaper, broadcasting and printing firm fell to $17,419,000 from $17,796,000 a year ago. A spokesman said a poor national economy, poor competitive pressures, and the principal reasons for the drop in earnings. The drop in profit was fairly evenly spread across Post's three divisions.

Alderman Mac Warfield showed his approval, saying, "I think this is one of the best programs we have in this city."

The council unanimously approved the allocation. In other business, the council agreed to rebire Paul Jones to certify the accuracy of weights and measures in city businesses. Jones has been employed in the same capacity under the CEFTA (Manpower) program for the past two years, but funding for that program has been eliminated.

Man struck on head with gun

Keith Andrew King, 21, of 704 Webster St., Madison, was taken by ambulance to St. Elizabeth Medical Center for treatment of a head injury after being struck with a .38 caliber pistol about 12:30 a.m. Thursday.

King told Madison officers he was walking from a lounge near W. 2nd and Jackson streets when a man approached him from the rear, pulled out a gun and struck him on the head.

A Venice friend transported King to the Madison Police Department, where he collapsed and an ambulance was summoned.

The arrest took place on 22nd Street after the fleeing car was halted by a railroad train. Raymond O. Neuling, 20, of 2455 Adams St. was charged with passing signs and attempting to elude police.

Randall Clark, 21, of 2248 Lee Ave. was charged with criminal damage to property at 5:35 p.m. Saturday after a door screen was broken at the Smith residence in the 2200 block of Lee.

Metal firm forbidden from burning or dismantling tank cars in Illinois

The parent company of a firm which proposes to open a rail car reclamation business in Granite City is under a state-wide temporary injunction prohibiting the firm from cutting tank cars and open burning at any of their facilities, according to court documents obtained by the Press-Record.

In a lawsuit filed against Joliet Railway Equipment Co., Arthur, James and Robert Piolet and Wally Knippenberg, a Will County judge issued an injunction Dec. 18, 1980, prohibiting the company or any of its facilities "effective as to any location in the state of Illinois," from conducting the cutting apart of tank cars and from doing any open burning.

Arguments will be heard Tuesday in Joliet on a request by the attorney general's office that a permanent injunction be issued against the company, according to Judith S. Goddard, assistant attorney general assigned to the Environmental Control Division in Chicago.

The Granite City Council is to act tomorrow night on a request by Reclaimed Iron and Metal Co. for a change of zoning to M-2 heavy industrial zoning for property at 2701 Missouri Ave. (old Route 3), just south of the Shasta bottling plant, to operate a rail car reclamation yard.

Questioning of company officials by Alderman Ray Bowler last week revealed that Reclaimed Iron and Metal Co. is affiliated with the Piolet Brothers, who also operate Joliet Railway Equipment Co. and other salvage yards in the state and in Indiana.

In the Dec. 18 ruling, the court ruled that at their Joliet facility, "the defendants, in their operation of salvage of railway cars, disregarded the (clean air) act and operated their business as if the act had not been passed by the legislature."

"They chose to take the cheapest route to accomplish their business venture, without any consideration of the dangers and the harm to be caused by such open burning. They made little effort to safeguard the health of those nearby, or of their own employees," the order stated.

It continues, "The water supply and fire protection was inadequate. The storage and use of dangerous materials was in direct disregard to good practices and to compliance with the law. This, to the court, was a method of operation long outdated by consideration of the rights of those nearby, and of health dangers incurred."

"Again, this court cannot find ignorance, but must find deliberate disregard for the law." The court imposed a civil penalty of $10,000 against each defendant, but stipulated that $10,000 would satisfy the judgment against all of the defendants.

The court rejected arguments that the injunction should pertain only to Joliet area facilities of the company and the judge stated, "The evidence shows that the relation of the various defendants in the business relating to the salvage of railway cars is closely related and intertwined. To limit the relief to the Joliet area operation would invite non-compliance elsewhere and could well cause an additional lawsuit."

It also finds, "...it is demonstrated that all defendants are engaged in, to some extent, the operation in the Joliet area and that the operation of the Joliet area has spilled over, in operation, to an area far outside of Joliet or Rockdale."

Andrew DiGuiseppe, manager for Reclaimed Iron and Metal, pledged to the city council and Plan Commission last week that this firm would not conduct any open burning and would dismantle only "clean" tank cars, so there would be no harmful materials to dispose of. The council decided to withhold action on the rezoning request for one week to give the city attorney time to study pending lawsuits against the parent company and other firms operated by the Piolet brothers.

City Attorney John Papa is expected to give his report prior to action on the rezoning request at the city council meeting, which is to be held at 6 p.m. Tuesday in the township hall, 21st Street and Delmar Avenue.

Witnesses said a girl ran into the street, chased by the boy, who was playing tag. The two came from behind a parked car and the driver of the westbound auto was unable to stop before hitting the boy, who then got up and ran into his house.

Schuler said the city has a chance to hire Jones part-time at $5 an hour until all of the grocery scales, gasoline pumps and other measures in the city have been certified. Jones has received special training in that field and is qualified, the mayor commented.

The council concurred. Aldermen were reminded that there will be a public hearing on the proposed "pretreatment" program Tuesday night, May 5, in the council chambers. The program calls for testing the sewage disposal plant to treat major industries and forcing the industries to eliminate the discharge of wastes which are hazardous or difficult for the sewage disposal plant to treat.

More suggestions for summer weather activities in state

Here are other suggestions for kicking off warm weather activities in the state:

Santa Claus in May? Well, not the Santa of American Christmas card fame, but Sinterklaas, the Dutch patron saint. The jolly saint will be on hand to help celebrate Fulton Dutch Days tomorrow and Saturday.

There will be folk dancing in wooden shoes, street scrubbing, authentic Dutch costumes and cuisine, and a bazaar filled with crafts and antiques. There also will be an auto show, films of Holland and, of course, tulips.

Friday's activities begin at 1:30 p.m. A 6.2-mile race kicks off Saturday's events at 9 a.m., and the day ends with a performance of the musical, "The Red Mill," at 8 p.m. The musical will be presented at the Fulton High School gym. Fulton is in northwestern Illinois on the Mississippi River.

Lombard's annual Lilac Festival begins May 1 and continues through May 17 with tours of Lilac Park, lilac bush and plant sales, carnivals, concerts and a croquet tournament.

The lilac queen and her court will preside over the Lilac Ball, May 9, and the two weeks of fun will be topped off by the annual Lilac Festival parade, Sunday, May 17, at 2:30 p.m. Lilac Park, with is 1,200 lilac bushes and thousands of brightly colored tulips, is at the corner of Maple Street and Park Avenue in Lombard, west of Chicago. The park is open from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. during the festival. Admission is $1 for non-resident adults.

The Prairie Breaker at the Early American Museum and Botanical Garden at the Lake of the Woods Park near Mahomet will give travelers yet another chance to experience early prairie life. From noon until 5 p.m. Sunday, May 17, visitors can dip candles, churn butter, mash corn and learn about Indian lore. All these activities will be taught by volunteers in authentic costumes from the mid 19th Century.

The Prairie Breaker will also feature a 2 p.m. performance of Stephen Vincent Benet's "Stories of America."

One-act plays by the Back Door Players will be given throughout the day in the botanical garden.

Admission to the museum and garden is $1.25 for adults and 75 cents for children between 10 and 17. Children under 10 are admitted free.

After visiting with the settlers, Illinoisans may pow wow with the Indians. The Kane County Fairgrounds in St. Charles will be alive with the sights and sounds of hundreds of Indian dancers, costumes and food. Traders from across the nation will sell Indian merchandise and crafts.

And $1.50 for young people. In addition to dancing, there will be tomahawk, knife-throwing and riflery demonstrations, authentic Indian songs, costumes and food. Traders from across the nation will sell Indian merchandise and crafts.

The fairgrounds open at noon. Available to all travelers is a toll-free, 24-hour travel line featuring current information on major events throughout the state. The telephone number is 800-252-8887 within Illinois, and 800-637-8560 from Iowa, Minnesota, Missouri, Tennessee, Wisconsin, Kentucky, Ohio, Indiana and Michigan.

DRIVER IS CHARGED

Kenneth W. Noe, 46, 4227 Highway 111, was charged with driving while under the influence of alcohol after his car left the roadway on Highway 111 at Kaseberg Lane, hit two state traffic signs and went into a drainage ditch Saturday evening. He was lodged in the Granite City Jail at 9:05 p.m. Saturday for Pontoon Beach police.

Annual jazz festival at university this week

The fourth annual Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville Jazz Festival will take place May 7, 8 and 9 on the campus.

This year's festival will bring to this area such musicians as saxophonist David Liebman and pianist Richard Beirach, pianist McCoy Tyner and the McCoy Tyner Quintet, and keyboardist and composer Lonnie Liston Smith.

The festival, which has brought in the past such jazz musicians as Art Blakey, Earl Hines, Teddy Wilson, Betty Carter and Ahmad Jamal, will also feature performances by local professional jazz groups, and competition among high school jazz bands.

This Thursday, May 7, will begin the festival with a "bash" at the Faculty Club, beginning at 11 a.m. Admission to the bash is free, and it will feature jazz performances by several professional and semi-professional groups.

In the event of inclement weather, it will take place in Goheen Lounge of the University Center.

At 8:15 p.m., Liebman and Beirach will be in concert in Meridian Ballroom, following a performance by the SUIUE Jazz Band.

The duo presents music stemming from a partnership beginning over a decade ago.

The two have performed at colleges and arts centers across the U.S., in addition to

Lonnie Liston Smith

McCoy Tyner

performances in Europe, India and Japan.

Out of the duo has come such works as "Forgotten Fantasies, 1976, and Omeria, 1978. They have played with such notables as Miles Davis, Elvin Jones, John Ambrose and Stan Getz.

On Friday, May 8 there will be competition among local high school jazz bands in Goheen Lounge.

Pianist McCoy Tyner and his quintet will be in concert at 8:15 p.m., following a performance by the winner of the high school competition, in Meridian Ballroom.

Born in 1938, Tyner studied at the West Philadelphia and Granoff music schools. At age 15, he formed his first group, a seven-piece rhythm and blues unit.

He recorded some 20 albums with the John Coltrane Quartet, which included Elvin Jones on drums and Jimmy Garrison on bass. Tyner began to make a name for himself as a writer and soloist under Coltrane's influence.

Between 1965 and 1970, Tyner created several albums with musicians such as Ron Carter, Lee Morgan and Joe Henderson.

The ethnic and international scope of his performances is reflected in such works as "Aisha," "La Cubana," "Asian Lullaby," "Festival in Bahia," "Indo Serenade" and "Man From Tanganyika." His compositions include such unusual instruments as the Brazilian berimbau, the dulcimer and harpsichord.

Long regarded as one of the most creative forces in contemporary music, keyboardist, composer and pianist McCoy Tyner studied piano, tuba, trumpet and voice in high school and college, attending Baltimore's Morgan State College, where he graduated

Richard Beirach and David Liebman

Echoes will highlight the final evening of the festival, Saturday, May 9, at 8:15 in Meridian Ballroom, during "Night Club." Night Club seeks to recreate the provincial jazz atmosphere of candlelight and soft, vibrant music.

Having roots in Richmond, Va., Smith over the years, has become a member of that class of individuals whose appeal transcends all musical categories. His music has reached hit status on jazz, pop and soul charts.

Smith studied piano, tuba, trumpet and voice in high school and college, attending Baltimore's Morgan State College, where he graduated with a bachelor of Science degree in education. While in Baltimore, he worked as house pianist at the Royal Theater, backing up artists that ranged from Flip Wilson to Diana Ross and the Supremes.

After working with such jazz greats as Rahsaan Roland Kirk, Pharoah Sanders—a featured guest at one of the past SUIUE jazz festivals—Art Blakey's Jazz Messengers a guest at last year's SUIUE festival—Chuck Mangione, Gato Barbieri and Miles Davis, Smith started his own group. The Cosmic Echoes have been together since 1973.

Young men's drinking may delay their sexual maturity

Studies by a University of Illinois Medical Center researcher suggest that chronic drinking may delay sexual maturity in male youths.

Robert A. Anderson Jr., Ph.D., assistant professor of physiology and biophysics, reported his findings at the 15th annual meeting of the Federation of American Societies for Experimental Biology, held in Atlanta.

In studies using mice, Anderson found that animals fed alcohol for a period corresponding to adolescence reached sexual maturity later than another group of mice not given alcohol. Peak intoxication levels in the mice reached 120 to 150 milligrams percent; legal intoxication in humans is defined as 100 milligrams percentage (measure of the blood-alcohol level).

"Relating the lifespan of mice to humans, the group that did not consume alcohol reached sexual maturity at an age corresponding to 16 to 17 years old; the alcohol-fed mice, at about 19 years old," said Anderson, co-director of the University of Illinois Alcohol and Drug Abuse Research and Training Program.

Previous research has shown that chronic alcoholism can seriously impair sexual function and fertility in adult men.

These new findings suggest that males who begin drinking heavily in adolescence and continue as adults may never reach normal sexual and reproductive levels.

A national survey of drinking patterns among American teenagers conducted in 1978 reported that 80 percent of high school-age youths have tried alcohol. Thirty-one percent were misusers and half of those were drinking at age 13.

"The sociological and psychological impact of possible effects of teenage alcoholism on subsequent reproductive performance is great."

"This is especially so when one considers that recent survey findings and other data confirm that drinking among American youth is the rule rather than the exception."

Anderson said that drinking to intoxication is not uncommon. "The School of Basic Medical Sciences researcher added. Anderson used mice in his studies because many of their reproductive traits are similar to humans. After 29 days, the animal's period of sexual maturation, several different measurements of fertility indicated significant difference between the alcohol-fed mice and the control group. The animals given alcohol had smaller organs and their sperm showed higher incidence of abnormalities and were less effective at fertilization.

After two more weeks, however, the alcohol-fed mice had reached the same levels of sexual maturity as the control group and all measurements of fertility were approximately the same.

"Male sexuality may be more sensitive to the effects of alcohol during adolescence than adulthood," Anderson said.

When the same amount of alcohol used in these experiments is consumed over the same period by adult males, only slight sexual dysfunctions appear—although significant changes occur over a longer time.

"Certain enzyme and hormonal changes are necessary for the male to reach sexual maturity. Alcohol may delay maturity by slowing the production of the male sex hormone testosterone. This is the next question we will study in our research."

Zoning hearings

The Madison County Zoning Board of Appeals will hold two on-site public hearings tomorrow in Chouteau Township to consider zoning requests.

The first hearing will be at 9 a.m. Tuesday along Wanda Road where Z.C. Herold is requesting an ordinance to develop land in a flood-hazard area and construct a residence. The property is zoned for agricultural use.

At 9:30 a.m. Tuesday, the board will meet near the intersection of Maryville and Morrison Roads, where T. Clyde Moore Sr. and Thomas C. Moore Jr. are requesting a special use permit to place a mobile home for up to five years. The property is zoned R-3 for single-family residential use.

Stars down South in final

By TOM SCHOCKER
of the Press-Record
CAHOKIA — It took spirit, it took determination. And most of all, it took a big sacrifice. But the Granite City South softball team showed a gutsy effort in the Cahokia Girls Softball Invitational here Saturday. The Warriors broke out of their week-long drought in fine fashion despite losing a couple of starting players every game during the journey. South ran up three victories in a row only to lose out in the championship game to McCluer North of St. Louis 9-3 and take home second place.

The road to the finals wasn't all that easy, but as head coach Pat Yates said after South's third straight loss last week, a win would be the best thing for the team. The Warriors got that victory in thrilling form, scoring four runs in the bottom of the seventh inning to beat Alton 7-6 in the opening round Friday. They came back Saturday morning to hold off number three seed and host in the tourney, Cahokia, to win again 7-6. And in probably the biggest win, the Warriors avenged an earlier loss, by knocking off the second seeded team and the defending tourney champion, Belleville West, 7-4 (see related story).

However, the trail to the finals was costly. Due to the scheduling of South's prom for Saturday and the championship game set for 4:30 p.m., the Warriors, by the time they met McCluer North, had lost six starters. "We had three people in regular positions for this (championship) game," said Yates. "But I don't think they played that badly."

Despite the enormous sacrifice many of the players had to make, especially the seniors, South played with poise, confidence and pride. "I don't think they were down," said Yates. "I think they were just glad to get as far as they did."

Trying to fill the absent positions with inexperienced players showed, but the Warriors never gave up trying. Refusing to yield to a five inning game against McCluer North as the Stars scored eight times by the fourth inning, the Warrior seniors took charge.

While starting pitcher Karen Spencer kept the Stars in check through the middle innings, Ann Chepey finally broke the North shutout. Tina Sedabres cracked just the third hit for South to start the sixth. The Warriors didn't have much to cheer about until Chepey plugged the gap in right-centerfield for a home run.

Chris Boyd later singled and two fielders choice's loaded the bases. Sherry Dillday then lifted a fly ball that scored Boyd. "We play whoever is put on the field," said Star head coach Merrill McDaniels. "I'm sorry to hear about Granite's situation, but I had no control over its efforts. It is one great coach to handle that big of a sacrifice."

McCluer North, now 14-2, has to be proud of its efforts through the tourney. After beating Valmeyer of St. Louis Friday, the Stars, seeded eighth, upset the number one seed East St. Louis Senior, which was 14-2 at the time. They then

Schrader rules USAC events

By JEFF EAVES

GRANITE CITY — Kenny Schrader of Fenton, Mo., driving the Sieveking Ford Granada, started on the front row pole and led every lap to win the first-ever United States Auto Club (USAC) center line Stock Car Race Sunday afternoon at the Tri-City Speedway in a 75-lap event.

A master at Tri-City this year, as he has already won three feature events, Schrader also made a clean sweep over the professional drivers as he won a 15-lap qualifying race and the 6-lap position which enabled him to start on the pole in the 75-lapper.

For the first 50 laps, Schrader was in command the race after pulling away on an eight-car length lead over Joe Wallace of Kansas City, Kan. On lap 60, Schrader started to lap slower, enabling Wallace to move up closer to Schrader. But Wallace never could catch Schrader's flying Granada.

At the finish of the 75-lapper, Schrader was the winner over Wallace, third was Johnny Prior of Centralia, Ill. in the Rich's Tire Co. Steelers find tourney going rough CAHOKIA — It might have been better to take the weekend off. With Granite City North's prom the night following the opening game of the Cahokia Girls Invitational Softball Tournament here Friday and another contest early the next morning, the Steeler softball team must have had other things on its mind besides softball.

North was victim of an outstanding pitching performance Friday as Sandy Muskopf tossed a no-hitter enroute to a 12-0 shutout by the Belleville West Maroons.

North came back Saturday morning and was whitewashed in five innings by Freeburg, 17-0.

The pitching woes of the North squad could not be rectified when Ron Dillard, who took over the reins as temporary head coach for the weekend, went with Monica Fanning on the mound to open the tourney against West. The Maroons supported their number two seeding and jumped on Fanning for five runs in the first inning.

But West's efforts were limited. It scored the 12 runs on just six base hits as Fanning gave up 14 walks. The Maroons along with six more walks in the fourth made the contest short, scoring five times. "There was too many walks," said Dillard. "They (North) just don't have the pitching. The hitting and defense is there."

Muskopf put a rather large crimp in North's offensive production, though. One of the smaller players on the mound to open the tourney against West, the Maroons supported their number two seeding and jumped on Fanning for five runs in the first inning.

New manager named

COLLINSVILLE — Roger D. Smith has been appointed vice president and general manager of Fairmont Park race track, Collinsville, Illinois. The announcement was made by John MacAniff, president of Bostons-based Ogden Leisure, Inc., which also operates horse tracks in Boston, Chester, West Virginia and a dog track in Wheeling, West Virginia. Smith succeeds former Fairmont Park general manager Robert Graham, who has been named executive vice president of Fairmont, in addition to expanded Ogden Leisure corporate responsibilities.

Commenting on Smith's appointment, MacAniff said, "Roger Smith has an outstanding background in racing. After serving as a racing official at a number of Northeast harness tracks for more than ten years, he efficiently managed our Scarborough Downs facility until it was sold to local interests in 1979."

The Steelers did pick up the attack with five hits. However, the search for a consistent pitcher is yet to be found. "They (Steelers) were popped," said Dillard. "They just didn't have any energy. The prom had a lot to do with it, but if they had an average pitcher, they could play 500 ball."

Tourney road is good for Warriors' morale

By TOM SCHOCKER
of the Press Record

CAHOKIA — It may have been the right way and it was certainly the only way to snap the Granite City South girls softball team out of its current tail spin. Entering the Cahokia Invitational with a three-game losing streak is not always a good confidence builder, but a thrilling comeback from behind win is.

Seeing Alton pile up a 6-1 lead in the opening round Friday could have put South in a deeper rut. However a four-run barrage in the seventh and final inning to recover a 7-6 win only sent the Warriors on a warpath. Moving to the quarterfinals, they met host Cahokia for the third time this season and took the series winning 7-6.

The semi-final contest was sweet revenge for South. Having suffered an earlier 7-2 loss at the hands of Belleville West, South evened the score with a 6-1 victory to move into the tournament championship (see related story).

If the Warriors had to pick a most valuable player for the tourney, Tina Sedabres would be on the top of the list. To put it bluntly, when she gets on base, South manages to score runs. Sedabres makes the Warriors go. And she started her act early when South needed it the most.

GC South 7,

Alton 6. Facing a 6-3 deficit in the bottom of the seventh inning against Alton, South's chances in the winners bracket looked dim. That was until Sedabres stepped to the plate. Opening the inning with a single, she stole second, one of at least seven she was going to steal throughout the tourney, and scored when Ann Chepley delivered a base hit.

Vickie Smith then singled, sending Chepley to third. With second base open, Smith promptly stole it and Susan Jeffries knocked them both home with a double. Alton intentionally walked pinch-hitter Kim Ross and regretted it when Chris Boyd smacked the game winning hit, scoring Jeffries.

The win was enough to show the Warriors they still had their old stuff. And they showed it to Cahokia Saturday. Again it was Sedabres starting up the fireworks, but freshman Smith joined the act. The pair stole six bases between themselves. Sedabres walked three times and scored on those walks. Smith clouted two base hits, drove in two runs and scored once.

GC South 7,

Cahokia 6. South took Cahokia into the seventh inning tied at three. With one out, Sedabres walked, stole second and was joined on base by Chepley, who also walked.

GC South 7, Alton 6. Sedabres then drove in Sedabres with a single. A two-out walk was given to Boyd to load the bases and Nita Graham was credited with an RBI when she was walked. Natalie Buster put an end to the free passes as she singled in two more runs and South a built a 7-4 cushion with but three outs left to get for the win.

The Warriors did realize the final Cahokia at-bat was going to be so difficult. The Comanches gave South a scare, scoring three times in their seventh and had the tying run on third. However, South's starting pitcher Karen Spencer managed to pick a Cahokia runner off second for the final out. It was the third base runner to be thrown out while on base for the Comanches in the game.

GC South 7,

Belleville West 6. South's defense continued to shine in its semi-final contest against Belleville West. Warrior catcher Boyd threw out a runner trying to steal second and first baseman Graham completed a double-play by catching a Maroon runner leaping off second base and threw her out, too. But it was the South offense that was put to the task once more.

Finishing themselves down 3-1 after three innings, the Warriors still remained in safe distance for a rally. They proved the first contest with West was a fluke. Dottie Smith opened the inning by reaching base via a Maen error. Boyd was walked and Buster loaded the bases with a fielders choice.

Graham was credited with yet another RBI by a walk and Ross picked up one with a fielders choice. The ever-present Sedabres then singled in two runs and South had opened the game up at 6-3. Spencer held down the West batting core to give the Warriors their third straight win.

Again it was Sedabres sparking the offense. In the first she scored all by herself on a walk, passed ball, stolen base and a wild pitch. She singled and scored again in the seventh with another stolen base.

"When we can get her on base, we can usually score a run," Warrior head coach Pat Yates. "We had been losing because we haven't been able to get Sedabres and Smith on. But now we are playing together and doing a good job talking." It just might have turned South's season around.

Illini start final drill week

CHAMPAIGN — Illinois football coach Mike White will guide his team through its final week of spring practices this week, ending with a final scrimmage on Saturday at 5:30 p.m. in Memorial Stadium. The public and media is invited.

"This has been another growing spring for Illinois football, in the sense that we're still looking for our top 22 players and the fact that we are still wide open in many positions. With an established team we might be working on drills for our opening opponent, Pittsburgh, but we're not quite where we had hoped to be. Instead, we are more concerned with evaluation of our own personnel than polish," said White.

Some benefits have surfaced with the additions of several newcomers, says White. "We have profited from the junior college players in spring practices because they give us depth that we need right now. Some schools are calling off their spring scrimmage for lack of players. We've had injuries but we still have enough players to work with."

"The junior college players have also upgraded our level of talent and performance a great competitive atmosphere among the entire squad. This is the type of fiber which can help a team speed up the progress when you're in a rebuilding situation. I'd say at least six tuces are solidly entrenched for starting positions and another six are strong competitors," said White. Those who highlight Coach White's reference are defensemnen Charles Armstrong (DB), Dennis Bishop (DB), Darryl Byrd (LB), Vince Osby (DE) and John Janata (TE). On offense, impressive have been running back Darryl Smith and wide receiver Oliver Williams.

Also enjoying a good spring are veterans, Dave Wilson and Tony Eason at quarterback and offensive linemen Mike Carrington and Troy McMillin at guards and tackle Dennis Flynn, who was switched to the defensive unit from defense just prior to the start of spring drills. Veterans Dan Gregus and Jack Squire have also had consistent performances at defensive tackle and middle linebacker respectively.

Steamers sign

ST. LOUIS — The St. Louis Steamers announced the signing of goalkeeper Manny Schwartz today. Schwartz signed a one year contract for the 1981-82 MISL campaign with an option for the 1982-83 season.

Schwartz, 23, a native of Haifa, Israel, appeared in 10 games for the steamers during the 1980-81 season, his first as an indoor keeper.

Prior to joining the Steamers he was a member of the Israeli National Team and represented his country at the 1976 Olympic Games in Montreal. He also played for the 1978 Israeli World Cup Squad and the 1980 Rochester Lancers of the NASL.

The 6'2", 180 lb. Schwartz is noted for his quickness, and turned in a respectable 4-4 record for the Steamers while teaming with keeper Slobod Iljevski. The goalkeeper tandem helped the Steamers compile a 25-15 regular season record, defeat the Buffalo Stallions in the quarterfinal playoff round to advance to the semifinals, and eventually the championship game.

On March 13 against the Horizons in Chicago, Schwartz sustained a concussion in a collision along the boards and did not suit up again until the final home game of the season against Cleveland on March 6.

Schwartz will spend the majority of the off season in his native Israel.

McBride to be honored

ST. LOUIS — When Pat McBride is presented the Southside Kiwanis "Sportsman of the Year" Award on May 15, it will mark the first time in its 36 year history that this trophy has been awarded to a St. Louis athlete other than a member of the St. Louis Baseball Cardinals.

The Southside Kiwanis selection committee members agree that McBride should be recognized for his contributions as an athlete and coach, and also for his commitment to not only the American Soccer Player, but to St. Louis athletes as well. On the Steamers' 22 man roster there are 18 North Americans of which 13 are St. Louisans.

No other St. Louis area soccer player is as well recognized as McBride. A collegiate All-American at St. Louis University, McBride was the most sought after prospect for professional soccer in the United States. In 1967, McBride was the most sought after prospect for professional soccer in the United States. In 1967, McBride became the first American to sign a contract when he joined the St. Louis Stars a relationship that would last 10 years.

On the sidelines, no other coach in this area commands the respect from his players that McBride does. As assistant coach at Southern Illinois University at Carbondale for eight years, McBride nurtured some of the best talent to be developed in the St. Louis area. He assumed the head coaching position at Meramec Community College in St. Louis County, and led the Warriors to the NJCAA National Championship in his first year. McBride has the ability to bring out the best in his players — to make work somewhere, fun.

A two-time MVP with the Stars and United States World Cup team member, McBride resides in St. Louis with his wife Barb, daughter Kelly, and sons Tim and Brian. He was named co-coach of the year in the M.I.S.L. last year, and is committed to the development of the American player.

McBride will be honored at an "Open to the Public" awards luncheon at Grant's Cabin, 8852 Walnut Road, on May 15. Reservation may be made by calling Pat at Grant's Cabin at 989-1166 between 8 a.m. and 3 p.m. Cost is $5 with advance reservations and $6 at the door. Cash bar at 11:30 a.m., luncheon begins at 12:15 p.m., seating will be on a first-come basis; however, persons making reservations for eight people.

Home energy audits to cut fuel cost here

Most public utilities in Illinois will begin offering home energy audits and other energy conservation help to their residential customers by mid-October, the state energy agency has announced.

Guidelines under which electric and natural gas utilities will offer the program, known as the Residential Conservation Service, have received federal approval, said Frank Beal. He is director of the Illinois Institute of Natural Resources.

Customers who live in single-family houses or in small apartment buildings will be offered an energy audit, which pinpoints ways to save energy. There will be a $15 charge for the service. Utility representatives also will give customers a list of contractors who can perform energy-related work and another list of lending institutions which can help finance such improvements.

"The Residential Conservation Service could help cut home energy bills in Illinois by $10.4 million each year if only five percent of the eligible customers ask for energy audits and follow the resulting recommendations," Beal said last week.

The plan under which Illinois utilities will operate was prepared in response to federal legislation requiring that the services be offered in each state. Development of the guidelines in Illinois took about one year, beginning in the fall 1979, with the INR coordinating the effort.

The Illinois Commerce Commission, which regulates public utilities, adopted the plan as a formal rule in November 1980. It was then submitted to the U.S. Department of Energy for approval.

The state's 12 largest utilities are required to provide the Residential Conservation Service. They include Illinois Power Co. and Union Electric Co.

The services to be provided are intended to bring utility customers a number of benefits, including:

1. A high-quality home energy audit at a cost of $15.
2. Assurances that energy conservation products will meet installation, performance and safety standards.

3. Inspection by utility personnel of some products after installation to ensure safety; and
4. A mediation service to settle disputes that might arise between customers and contractors if conservation equipment has been installed.

INR now will begin to compile lists of lending institutions, energy-service contractors and suppliers. Utilities will distribute these lists to customers at the time the audits are conducted.

Customers will be able to use the lists to find out what firms in their areas are interested in supplying or installing conservation equipment or providing financing.

Beal concluded, "It is critical that reliable energy conservation assistance be available to homeowners. Twenty percent of all energy consumed in Illinois is used in the home, and the Residential Conservation Service represents one of the few means available to help the majority of residential users save energy dollars."

Amsted's sales down

Amsted Industries Incorporated, parent firm of the American Steel Foundries, had sales in the six months ended March 31 of $436.1 million, down $33.4 million, or 7 percent, from the same period a year ago.

Earnings amounted to $28.5 million, or $2.64 per share, down from $42 million, or $3.89 per share. Sales and earnings in the year-ago period were record highs.

Robert H. Wellington, president, said net income amounted to 6.5 percent of sales compared to 8.9 percent a year ago.

The lower margin resulted principally from a reduced volume of railroad product shipments, which were at a more profitable, full-capacity, operating level last year.

Travelers enjoy England in October

Travelers Abroad met last week with 40 members, including seven guests, present. Guests introduced were Mr. and Mrs. Bassett from Vienna, Mo., Mr. and Mrs. Leland Eschleman, Mrs. Ann Turner, Mrs. Marian Pearson, and Mrs. Dorothy Ruff.

Mrs. Mary Evangelou, president, conducted a business meeting and reminded the members that the next meeting will be in September with Mrs. Turner giving a program on Germany and its folklore.

Miss Betty Townsend introduced Miss Marguerite Barker, who presented a narrated slide program on England in October. Prior to the beginning of the program, Miss Barker explained that she had brought scones, cookies, and candies for the group to sample which were representative of the types of sweets she found in England.

Miss Barker said that, for her, going to England was like going home. She felt she was seeing treasures of her grandparents since so many of our American customs are based on an English background. Their tour guide explained that she would describe the scenes they were seeing "blow by blow" and that was how Miss Barker described her trip.

She was quite impressed by a large, circular message holder in the airport in London. One could leave a message for a friend rather than spending time waiting for that person. The guide explained that the economy was the currency exchange board which listed an English pound as being worth $2.42 American money. Only four years ago the pound was equal to $1.73 American.

Scenes from their hotel and views from their room windows were shown with many of the red, double-decker buses in view. Newly constructed apartments which featured recessed levels so that each floor could have trees growing on its patio were nearby.

Scenes of Westminster, Parliament, and Big Ben were shown with the group being reminded that the bell in the clock tower weighs 13½ tons and that the hour and the minute hand, respectively, are 9 feet and 14 feet long. An interesting ride was shown; it is reputed to get about 80 m.p.g., and it was a three-wheeler—the odd wheel was in the center front.

The English countryside is supposed to be lovely because of the amount of rainfall and Miss Barker said that rain dogged their steps nearly every day. An interesting means of travel between London and Stratford-on-Avon is by boat. Year meals and accommodations are on the boat and it stops frequently at castles and other points of interest for one to explore before sailing on, Miss Barker explained.

Anne Hathaway's cottage and Shakespeare's birthplace, a short distance apart, were shown. Miss Barker reminded persons that both of these houses showed the timbered walls that are covered by wattle and daub panels and finished with hair plaster, a finished method also used in our early settlements. Stratford was having a parade, but no one seemed to know what it was for, and they thought it strange that I wanted to know. The women brought up the end of the parade, the speaker noted.

Blenheim Palace, the birthplace of Sir Winston Churchill, was on her tour. This palace is open to the public featured the English landscaped gardens and a magnificent East gate which was useful for military-strength purposes. Windsor Castle, a place of relaxation for Queen Elizabeth, was also shown. Leeds Castle looks like that of a fairy tale. It has been restored and modernized and will be the Leeds Castle Foundation, whose goals are to preserve peace, fight disease, and further the arts. Many world-wide conferences are held here. It is located on two islands and this provides good security. Canterbury Cathedral in the southern part of England is the site of Anglican Christianism. The Canterbury Tales by Chaucer was written about pilgrims making their way to the cathedral to pray for their troubles and illnesses at the tomb of St. Thomas A. Becket. He was the archbishop of Canterbury who was murdered while he was praying. Two soldiers thought they were doing their king a favor when they murdered the archbishop. As a penance, the king crawled to the church on his knees, setting a precedent which continued for hundreds of years as the pilgrims came expecting miracles, Miss Barker added.

A favorite shopping place of mine was Covent Gardens. This is the area where Prof. Higgins found Eliza Doolittle in "My Fair Lady." No longer a fruit and vegetable wholesale area, it is now a home-made crafts, or London-made wares, marketplace, she said.

Miss Barker announced she was delighted to find that there was a cat-lover in this area. On the sidewalk, outside a church, someone had prepared a bed, a litter box, water, and food for an enormous white cat that was taking it easy the day Miss Barker was there. The nearby "Cat Shop" had everything that a cat would enjoy.

Miss Barker continued, noting Bath, which dates from the 18th century, is built of the original Roman Baths of the 1st century A.D. Once a Roman showplace, it is now being excavated and re-discovered. Hot springs are still feeding into this area. These baths were accidentally discovered by a leperous king who was banished to England. He noticed that pigs, that were suffering from sores, came back healed after wallowing in a muddy area. This man went down to the same mud area, bathed, and was cured of his disease. Returning to Rome, he told of these healing muds and the Roman baths were built into a fashionable vacation area.

After returning home, Miss Barker learned that Shaw's Gardens in St. Louis has an English walled garden. Her slides showing the quiet woods just made for walking were beautiful; she was delighted to find "England at Home."

Stonehenge, said Miss Barker, was the highlight of her trip. She compared the mounds there with our Monk's Mounds. Stonehenge was built in stages extending over 1,000 years, starting about 2500 B.C. to 1550 B.C. They compared in age to the oldest Pyramids and have many similar features. The stones' alignments for solar and lunar rotations are still amazing. Archaeoastronomers. The public can no longer wander among the stones as they could four years ago. Because of vandalism, they are now roped off.

Miss Barker said that on their way home they were refueled in Gander, Newfoundland. All that they could see was the airport, but she thought the air was the cleanest and most enervating that she had ever breathed.

Troop attends pilgrimage

Boy Scout Troop 7, of St. Joseph Catholic Church, attended the annual Springfield Lincoln Pilgrimage during the weekend, making the trip by Amtrak Inter-American train.

The local group took part in the pilgrimage and parade sponsored by the Abraham Lincoln Bicentennial. The 36th annual pilgrimage to the tomb of President Lincoln was made to Oak Ridge Cemetery, where the Lincoln Tribute was delivered by Eagle Scout, Charles Marshall, president and chief executive officer of Illinois Bell Telephone Co.

Other parts of pilgrimage included: "Star Spangled Banner," pledge of allegiance and the dedication to the scout oath. After pilgrimage ceremonies, Troop 7 joined some 10,000 midwest area scouts, cub scouts, Girl Scouts and Campfire Girls in the parade to the state Capitol Building.

Flag Bearers paraded first, with Richard Schierling bearing the American flag for Troop 7 and Jeff Kittel, bearing Troop 7 flag. Flag Bearers then formed an "Avenue of Glads" at the end of the parade.

Among other points of interests and historic places visited were: Lincoln home visitors' center, where scouts viewed a movie about Lincoln's home; Lincoln Home National Historic Site; Lincoln Home Mall; Lincoln Wax Museum; Lincoln Depot, where Lincoln gave his farewell address; Lincoln Family Pew at the First Presbyterian Church, where the Lincoln family attended, old state capitol building; governor's mansion; Oliver Parks Museum, nation's largest museum of antique telephone equipment.

Also Civil War Museum, where much Civil War Memorabilia is preserved. Illinois State Capitol Building; Illinois State Museum, where Scouts encountered exhibits which encompass natural history, anthropology, Illinois prairie life and numerous Illinois art treasures; Illinois Supreme Court, where Scouts visited the Library of the Supreme Court and the courtroom of the Supreme Court and the Third District Appellate Court and learned how the Courts operate.

During the pilgrimage, Troop 7 stayed at Camp Lincoln, an Illinois National Guard facility in Springfield, where Scouts enjoyed camping inside barracks.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Miller provided transportation for Scouts' gear to and from Springfield. Transportation of Scouts from Amtrak Trail Station to home were provided by Steve Kusmierczak Sr., Carl Mainbridge, Carl Kittel, Joseph Barron, Robert Hagen, Hugh Jordan, Mrs. Virginia Williamson, and Norman Alexander.

Given Wetterau internship

Westminster College Junior Claude G. Ohanesian, son of Mr. and Mrs. Emanuel Ohanesian, 2315 Benton Ave., Granite City, is serving a student internship with Wetterau Incorporated of Hazelwood, Mo.

Claude was selected from a list of eight candidates for one of three business internships with the large food distributorship. The internships cover four weeks and provide Westminster students with three hours of academic credit. Students are required to submit a written report about the Wetterau management to the Wetterau board of directors at the end of the four-week period.

"The internship ties together a student's course work at Westminster," said Bob Hoerber, assistant professor of economics and business administration and director of the administrative internship program at the college. "The student is able to apply theories and material he learns from the classroom in the real world."

Westminster established the internship program with Wetterau in 1978. Ted C. Wetterau, a 1961 graduate of Westminster and now president and chairman of the board of the Hazelwood

CLAUDE OHANESIAN

World Of Music

Jazz album spans the years

By ROBIN WELLES

HOLLYWOOD — Year after year the jazz beat hangs in there, beating off the challenges of rock, disco, country, pop and rhythm and blues.

The main reason is that every generation produces some outstanding jazz artists. New blood continuously flows into the art form.

Nowhere is this more clear than in the Jazz Odds-sey Series being released by Columbia. The nine albums span the years from Billie Holiday to Jackie Paris.

Each LP is outstanding. One album is devoted to Holiday, Ella Fitzgerald, Sarah Vaughan and Lena Horne — the titans of their generation. Holiday sings Gertrude's "The Man I Love," Fitzgerald does "My Melancholy Baby," Horne entrances with "Prisoner of Love" and the divine Sarah does Waller's "Ain't Misbehavin'." Quite a bit of the piano backup is provided by Teddy Wilson. Time of the recordings ranges from 1935 to 1950.

In addition to vocalist Paris, Modern Jazz Perspective album features Don Byrd on trumpet, Wynton Kelly on piano and Arthur Taylor on drums.

Other albums in the series are J.J. Inc. (The J.J. Johnson Sextet), Phil Woods and his quartet, Bud Powell, Art Blakey and the Jazz Messengers (hard hop), Bob Brookmeyer (with Stan Getz and Herbie Hancock), Jazz Critics' Choice (a jazz oldie including such as Claude Thornhill, Bessie Smith, Benny Goodman, Duke Ellington and Louis Armstrong), and Jingle Bell Jazz which features Lionel Hampton, Carmen McRae, Dave Brubeck, Miles Davis and others on Christmas favorites.

JOHNNY PAYCHECK — Mr. Hag Told My Story (CBS) — This is the country gentleman who looks like he should sit for a Rembrandt portrait but sings like a good ol' boy should. Johnny endeavored himself to several generations with "Take This Job and Shove It," and he's been growling out hits ever since. Another high school dropout strikes it big, which might tell you something about the value of education.

OHIO PLAYERS (Tenderness) — Slide and glide with these elegant dudes who are in complete harmony with themselves and their fans. The main entree is "Try a Little Tenderness," a tune that bends and twists just the way the Players do. If you thought dance music had been blasted to death by acid rock, the Players will restore your faith.

LEON REDBONE — From Branch to Branch (Emerald-Atco) — Everytime you hear Redbone it's like time had reversed itself and you had stumbled into a 1920's speakeasy and there sat Leon at the piano. Certainly he would have been a hit in that era with that low, quaking, old-time voice that wraps itself so beautifully and uniquely around oldies like (on this LP) "My Blue Heaven." And he's a hit in this era, too, which shows you how little times change.

WAYLON AND JESSI — Leather and Lace (RCA) — What a pair. They fit together beautifully in a portrait, and they sing together beautifully. Waylon is the country gent who laced the product with a little rock 'n' roll, the so-called "new wave" in country music (there is always a new wave coming in). And wife Jessi is a star in her own right.

THE ISLEY BROTHERS — Grand Slam (T-Neck-CBS) — Specialists in funky rhythm and blues, this sextet seems to be sliding a bit toward pop-rock as per their "Young Girls" on this LP. The Isleys have been together a long time and it shows in their precise harmonies and tempos. For what they do, they're hard to beat.

Move over Captain Kangaroo

By NANCY ANDERSON

HOLLYWOOD — When he was advised that Charles Kuralt of CBS would like to stretch the CBS Morning News into a two-hour time frame and thus bump Captain Kangaroo, David Brinkley of NBC surmised that such a show wouldn't work.

Some days, Brinkley declared, there's scarcely enough straight news to fill 30 minutes, much less two hours, unless one considers an interview with an actor a news event.

Kuralt had already said that he wouldn't consider such an interview a news item, but he predicted that by packing two hours with genuine reporting of significant happenings he could overtake "Good Morning, America" and "Today" in the ratings.

Yes, he greedily admitted, he'd like to take over the hour occupied by Bob Keeshan, otherwise known as Captain Kangaroo, who stars for an hour each morning on CBS.

Well, beginning Sept. 28, half of Kuralt's dream is going to be realized, while viewers are going to find out who knows more about the quantity of news extant each a.m., Charles Kuralt or David Brinkley.

Because on that day, the CBS Morning News with Charles Kuralt will be expanded from one hour to 90 minutes, from 7:30 until 9 a.m., ET, while the jolly Captain will find his morning segment cut from one hour to 30 minutes.

However, he'll make up the lost time, because he'll offer a report daily as part of a new, as yet untitled CBS series set from 4 until 4:30 p.m., ET.

Operating in his new, earlier time slot, Keeshan says he'll be able to reach school-age children unavailable to the Captain Kangaroo show as it's presently scheduled at 8 a.m.

"I've been part of this planning for two years," says Keeshan. "The earlier time period had great appeal. We'll have a large, less-fragmented audience."

The afternoon show, Keeshan continues, will address families, not just kiddies home from classes, treating the "continuing things we face in our daily lives in everyday, constant, rewarding, nagging family situations."

Emphasizing that he hasn't been pushed into his new posture on CBS, Keeshan says, "I have not been a pussycat. I have been very, very difficult. ... This is not a territorial contest."

He also proclaims, "The Captain's not going bye-bye."

Meanwhile, advised that Brinkley doesn't think two hours can be filled with hard news daily, Bill Leonard, president of CBS News, guttily predicts that Kuralt will have no trouble with his hour and a half.

"Of course, there's news," he says almost testily. "There's an enormous range between zero activity and a total explosion."

If Kuralt has to resort to a dog and pony show to fill his 90 minutes, he'll quit, Leonard declares.

"He'll go out the door right after one other fellow, Me."

The 33rd anniversary of the creation of the state of Israel will be celebrated by one of the birthday parties in history if Producers Edie and Ely Landau have their way.

On May 11, in observance of Israel's natal day, the Landaus plan to introduce their latest film, "The Chosen," in 1,000 theaters in 14 countries including, of course, the United States. Tickets to the worldwide gala will go for $100 each with proceeds, expected to reach $50 million, to benefit Jewish educational institutions.

The husband-and-wife producing team admit that "The Chosen" can't be released the way the average picture is. It will have to be nursed as a unique and special property, because the film has a strongly ethnic flavor.

Set in Brooklyn in the 1940s, it's the story of the rivalry and friendship between two Jewish boys from disparate backgrounds, one the son of an Hasidic rabbi, the other the son of an Orthodox professor and scholar.

"The hardest selling point will be the ethnic look of the picture," Edie Landau believes. "Robby Benson wears earlocks, a black fur cap and a long coat."

"Still," she says, "this picture will do well, because audiences will get behind the strange look and enjoy the human values."

Theatergoers will come to accept it, she hopes, in the way they accept any exotic costume production.

"This," Edie continues, "is a piece about young people as they relate to each other, to their parents and to their heritage."

"I especially hope kids will come to see it."

No stranger to productions with ethnic themes, the Landaus produced "The Pawnbroker" for which Rod Steiger was nominated for an Oscar and the documentary "King ... A Filmed Record ... Montgomery to Memphis."

The latter, like "The Chosen," was nursed carefully with a release through 600 theaters as a tribute to Dr. Martin Luther King.

To bring about the international premiere set for May, the Landaus sent letters to consulates asking their cooperation, so that "On the night of the premiere, people around the world will be sharing a common experience."

In "The Chosen," Robby Benson plays an Hasidic youth, son of a rabbi played by Steiger, while Barry Miller plays the son of an Orthodox professor played by Maximilian Schell who previously worked for the Landaus in "The Man In The Glass Booth."

"The Chosen" was done "very inexpensively," the producers say, because "all of the actors worked for a pittance."

Edie points out, "Robby Benson got $75,000 as opposed to the $4.5 million he got for Tribute."

"When Maximilian Schell and Rod Steiger were asked to do the picture, each said, 'Yes, immediately.'"

Commenting upon the fact that Steiger isn't Jewish, "The Pawnbroker" notwithstanding, Edie Landau laughs, "When he was in Israel a rabbi asked him to do something only a Jew is supposed to do (I can't remember what it was), and he said, 'I don't think I should. I'm Gentile.'"

"The rabbi said, 'Do it. To us, you're Jewish.'"
